Written by

Howl Lyon

Based on original concept by Ryan Herrera & Ty Fealko

EXT. PRISMA CITY - DAY

TV static. Citizens screaming. Distant explosions.

Panning shots of the city, some buildings destroyed, some in flames. THE MIXER cackles maniacally.

NEWS ANCHOR (V.O.)

--need to evacuate. Prisma City's symbols of peace are on their way at this very moment, a true union of magic and mecha--

QUICK CUTS:

- Mid-flight, CHARMII twirls her wand in her hand.
- KHROMA revs the engine on her mech, lighting it up.
- Khroma and Charmii pop up in front of a billboard depicting them in a cute team-up pose; in reality, they're screaming at each other.

CHARMII

Stay in your lane, you glorified race-car driver! I got here first!

KHROMA

And still let this wannabe villain destroy half the city! Move over, princess, the grown-ups are talking.

CHARMII

Stay out of this!

- Khroma and Charmii stand on a rooftop facing The Mixer, both in fighting stances. He's in the midst of a monologue; they're still screaming at each other.

THE MIXER

Hello? Evil monologue here? Enough!

- Shots of Khroma and Charmii in opposite aesthetics, visibly distressed.

KHROMA / CHARMII

--You switched our powers?!

QUICK CUTS:

- The mech runs up the side of a skyscraper, arms flapping uselessly behind it. Charmii screams as The Mixer shoots an energy beam, narrowly missing the pilot's chamber.

CHARMII (V.O.)
Why are there so many buttons?
Nothing needs this many buttons!

- Khroma flies through the air, wobbling like a baby bird and almost dropping the wand.

KHROMA (V.O.)
Ugh, I think I got glitter in my mouth! How do you aim this stupid thing?

- Charmii swings a mecha fist at The Mixer, completely missing.

- Khroma shoots a magic beam from the wand, the recoil catapulting her into a building.

KHROMA / CHARMII (V.O.)
Your powers suck! Mine?! Stop talking over me. No, you stop!

THE MIXER (V.O.)
Who doesn't love a remix?

KHROMA / CHARMII
Stay out of this!
